

Ann Summers

Retail work

We were asked by Ann Summers to revisit 3 of their existing sites that had recently been designed by a previous lighting company. We produced a report that explained what we would do to improve the stores. The client then asked us to supply a complete LED lighting solution for all new sites.

The black interior affects not only the predicted illumination calculations, but also the overall illumination within the space, which must be taken into account. The client was very happy with the final installation and energy saving's which were achieved.
